

PURSING THE ENEMY.

Our Advance in the Philippines
Continues With Vigor.

HEAVY SLAUGHTER OF REBELS.

In Engagements Near Iloilo and Bacor
the Filipino Loss Was Nearly
Two Hundred and Fifty—Clearing
Up Cavite and Batangas Provinces.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The war department has received the following dispatches from General Otis, dated at Manila, Jan. 8:

General Bates is pursuing the enemy in the south with vigor. General Schwan's column, moving along the shore of Laguna de Bay, struck 800 rebels under General Natividad, killed on the 6th inst. and drove them westward on Silang, capturing that place, from which point the cavalry pushed through to Indang. Schwan captured 200 of the enemy's six pieces of artillery and will take the remainder also, his transportation, with records and large quantity of ammunition. Two battalions of the Twenty-eighth regiment, part of Wheaton's column, struck the enemy near Iloilo yesterday, killing and wounding 140. Birkheimer, because of the Twenty-eighth inst., struck the enemy entrenched with 100 Baco yesterday morning. The enemy left on the field 50 dead, 40 wounded and 22 rifles. Our loss thus far is Lieutenant Cheney, of the Fourth Infantry, and seven enlisted men killed and 24 enlisted men wounded.

It is expected that Schwan's troops will cut off the retreat of the enemy's Cavite army. Wheaton is moving today on Las Marinas. Boyd, with the Thirty-seventh infantry, moved east from Las Banos and surrounded the troops of General Rial at daylight, capturing Rial and considerable property. It is expected that Cavite and Batangas provinces will be cleared up soon.

In the North Lenoahower, with three companies of the Twenty-fifth, attacked robber bands in Arayat mountain, dispersed them, destroying their barracks and subsistence. Found there five of our prisoners whom they had picked up on the mountain. Three killed and two seriously wounded. These northern robber bands will be actively pursued.

GILLMORE'S PARTY SAFE.
Lieutenant Speaks Well of Aguinaldo, but Denounces Tino.
Manila, Jan. 8.—The United States steamer Venus came into the harbor Saturday evening from Vigan, province of South Iloilo, with Lieutenant J. C. Gillmore and 19 other American prisoners, including seven of the sailors from the Yorktown. He is weak and nervous, showing the results of long hardships. He speaks warmly of Aguinaldo and very bitterly against General Tino, declaring that while in the former's jurisdiction he was treated splendidly, but that after he fell into Tino's hands he suffered everything. The Filipinos abandoned them on Dec. 16. The lieutenant in charge of the Filipino guard that last had him in charge informed Lieutenant Gillmore that he had been ordered by General Tino to shoot the prisoners, but he declared that his conscience forbade the act. He left them to make their way as best they could. Two days later the released prisoners were found by Colonel Hare's force, which had been sent to search for them. Lieutenant Gillmore says that the Filipinos' treatment of Spanish prisoners was brutal in the extreme.

A VIRGINIA LYCING.
Speedy Punishment of a White Man
Who Assaulted His Benefactor.
Newport News, Va., Jan. 6.—The death of William W. Watts, white, at the hands of a mob early yesterday morning signals the initial execution of a white man for rape in Virginia, legally or otherwise. Watts was charged with the rape of a penniless, Thomas W. Simpson, to whom he applied for assistance, gave him food and money. When he called to thank her on Thursday she failed to recognize him in the white dress and the attendant upon whom she had bestowed alms. Watts, who was a gambler, had made a "stake." After conversing with him a few moments she retired into the hallway. Watts followed, seized her by the throat, forced her into the room and attempted to force her after a desperate struggle.

Watts was captured on a train just leaving for Richmond. Yesterday morning three masked men entered the station house, overpowered the porter and secured the keys and quickly dragged Watts outside, where they were joined by four masked companions. He was taken first to the house of Mrs. Simpson, who identified him, and then to the outskirts of the city, where a mob of several hundred men was gathered. He was bound by the wrists and his body riddled with bullets. The rope with which the body of the victim was bound was cut up and distributed among the onlookers. The identity of the lynchers is a mystery.

The father of Watts, the victim of the lynching, came to Norfolk today from his home in Lynchburg. He returned to Lynchburg after calling upon an undertaker here, with whom he made arrangements to give his son a decent burial. The father, who is a member of the Lynchburg police force, told of the waywardness of his son and of the many efforts he had made him if he would come home and lead a sober and industrious life. Watts was an excellent Virginia family.

Prisoners to Aid Boers.
Columbus, Jan. 9.—Captain I. F. Jobe, who escaped from the county jail while awaiting trial for alleged misuse of government mail privileges, is on his way to South Africa. A letter received from him at San Juan, Porto Rico, says he has been there for a short time, and must forego his 180 good fishermen with me and expect to enlist from 60 to 75 more and leave this island. I have a fine ship engaged and plenty to eat and drink. I am to be the colonel."

The Demand For Sand Notes.
Washington, Jan. 9.—United States Treasurer said today that the demand for small notes still continues beyond all precedent, and has resulted in reducing the supply on hand to a point where an increase was absolutely necessary. To meet this increased demand the bureau of engraving and printing will print $200,000 additional in new fives and tens, and this will be the last of the small notes of the country required.

GENERAL SOUTHERN NEWS.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 5.—Near Danville, Essex county, Va., John and Charles Wheeler, 17 and 15 years old, sons of a leading farmer, went skating on Robinson's mill pond. One of the youths went through and his brother tried to rescue him. The result was the drowning of both.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 6.—Word has just reached here of the killing of four men on the Tennessee Central railroad, eight miles from Pockwood. They were unloading dynamite when a quantity of it exploded. One man was killed instantly and three others died in two hours.

Macon, Ga., Jan. 5.—Miss Mary Huggins, of Walden, a hamlet near here, while looking into a 70 foot well, lost her balance and fell to the bottom. A young man who was with her at the time succeeded in rescuing her. Beyond a few scratches she was uninjured.

Georgia Labor Famine Threatened.
Covington, Ga., Jan. 8.—This section of Georgia is threatened with a labor famine, owing to the fact that the large number of men are leaving for Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana, where there is said to be a big demand for negro labor.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 3.—Oscar I. Fleming, the Princess Anne county magistrate who shot and killed Clarence L. Snyder, of this city, a few weeks ago, because the latter was hunting on his property, was yesterday indicted for murder. His bail was increased from $2,000 to $5,000, and his trial set for the first Monday in February.

Atlanta, Jan. 6.—It is probable that the Georgia Republicans will put a state ticket in the field this year. The Republican state convention will be held on March 7, and the sentiment is already strong for a ticket with Hon. W. L. Scruggs, ex-minister to Venezuela, or Walter Johnson at its head. The convention will select four delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention.

Atlanta, Jan. 8.—The movement looking to the establishment of a national military park on ground made historic by the battle of Atlanta and other engagements in this vicinity during the civil war, has been given an impetus by the receipt of letters from many sources, both military and civil, favoring the plan, including ex-President Harrison, who took part in all three battles around Atlanta.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 3.—Agnes T. Kelly, a negro girl, was yesterday committed to jail on the charge of attempting to poison her father, Richard C. Kelly, a merchant, for whom she had been cooking, by putting a box of matches into the coffee. The girl had been discharged for refusing to properly perform some household work, and it is supposed she put the matches into the coffee pot for revenge. None of the coffee was used.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 3.—The big Painter gas well, belonging to the Mountain State Gas company, of this city, located in Ritchie county, accidentally caught fire Monday night, and all efforts to extinguish the flames have been futile. Millions upon millions of feet of gas is going to waste, and the financial loss will be enormous. The roar from the burning gas can be heard 12 miles, and the fire illuminates the surrounding country.

Richmond, Jan. 6.—Richmond last evening suffered the severest fire loss it has known for years. The Merchants' and Planters' Tobacco warehouse, which covered about a third of a block, with some 3,500 hogshead of tobacco, was completely destroyed. The flames spread to other buildings, and before the fire was controlled $400,000 had gone up in smoke. Fireman Bullington was overcome by heat and smoke, and is in an unconscious condition.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 3.—As a result of a powder explosion at the home of C. M. Patterson, near Drain post office, in Lowndes county, three people were killed and three badly hurt. Patterson was loading shells from an open keg of powder, which he held between his knees. One of his little girls threw a piece of wood on the keg, and the explosion followed a second. The girl was killed instantly. Patterson's father and mother were so badly burned that they died. Patterson is reported to be fatally burned. His wife and baby were severely burned.

Deaths of Mrs. Bazaine.
City of Mexico, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Bazaine, widow of the famous French marshal who died some years ago in Spain, died at a private hospital here yesterday undergoing an operation for cancer. Her maiden name was De LaFayette, and she was allied to many aristocratic families here. Her marriage to Marshal Bazaine added to her prestige and honor. She received by her alliance the title of excellency. For a time after her husband's return to France she was one of the ornaments of the court of Napoleon III, where her beauty and elegance were much admired. When Marshal Bazaine fell into disgrace she plotted successfully for his escape.

Havana's Customs Frauds.
Havana, Jan. 9.—Senator Aristegui, deputy collector of customs, who was recently suspended temporarily in connection with the custom house frauds, was arrested yesterday, owing to the fact that he is apparently deeply implicated, although there is only one charge against him in the present proceedings. He was released on $2,000 bail. The authorities have documents, bearing the initials of the accused and his mark "OK," which show fraud to the extent of $400. It is understood that not more than 15 per cent of the undoubted frauds against the customs can be substantiated legally, owing to the destruction of the incriminating documents.

Another Victim of "Faith Cure."
Council Bluffs, Ia., Jan. 8.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of Ethel Yates returned a verdict that death was due to neglect. The post mortem showed that the cause of death was appendicitis, and doctors testified that with proper care there was every reason to believe that her life would have been saved. The physician who attended her before her mother returned home from a visit and dispensed with his services for that of a faith healer, testified that at that time she was improving. The matter will be presented to the grand jury.

A Message From Grover Cleveland.
Chicago, Jan. 9.—The Tribune prints the following letter from ex-President Cleveland, received in response to a request for a sentiment appropriate to Jackson day: "I am only able on account of illness to sit up occasionally for a short time, and must forego contribution to your supplement commemorative of the splendid career of Andrew Jackson. I wish it was to be published at a time when I could have been present. The national committee are exceedingly anxious over the frequent recurrence of the local wrangle and are considering the advisability of establishing the party test in a more harmonious neighborhood."

Voted Against Seating Query.
Washington, Jan. 8.—The senate committee on education and labor decided yesterday, by a vote of four to three, to make an adverse report upon the resolution to seat Senator Quay. The members of the committee voting for the resolution were Senators Chandler, Hearst and McComb, and the opposing Senators Brewster, Caffery, Pettus and Harris. Senators Turley and Pritchard were paired, the latter for and the former against the resolution.

GEN. WHITE HOLDS OUT

The British Position at Ladysmith Is Critical.

AMMUNITION FAMINE PROBABLE.

The beleaguered Force Cannot Be Furnished With a New Supply—The Difficulties Confronting General
Buller's Plan of Relief.

London, Jan. 9.—General White still holds out at Ladysmith, or did so 69 hours ago, when the news, onated from their footholds inside the wires, suspended their assaults at midnight. England has taken heart. The situation, however, is worse. The beleaguered force must have expended large amounts of ammunition, which is counterbalanced, so far as the situation is concerned, by the greater loss of the Boers.

General White still needs relief, and the difficulties confronting General Buller are as great as before. The former's unadorned sentences, as read and re-read, suggest eloquently the peril in which the town is placed, and how barely able his 9,000 men were to keep from being overcome.

The chief concern for General White is in respect of ammunition. Sixty-eight days ago the government of the siege, his small arm ammunition was vaguely described as "plenty." His artillery then had 300 rounds per gun. Some of the batteries have been in action frequently since then, and all were probably engaged last Sunday. The stock of shells, consequently, must be low, and this will make it difficult for General White to co-operate in a movement by General Buller.

The entrenchments at Ladysmith, as described in a message that left a day or so before the light, and has just come through, are fortified hills, well covered with rifle pits and trenches, down which the infantry move in absolute safety. Full rations are still served, but no more food is forthcoming.

Mr. Spencer Wilkinson, in The Morning Post, points out that there is one division only at Chieveley, another at Fere and another at Eclair. As Chieveley is seven miles from Colenso, the second division would have to march 12 miles to get into action, and the third division 22 miles. General Buller's 30,000 men and 70 guns were therefore almost inactive on Saturday, and when General White telegraphed General Buller could really make no move but an ineffective one.

England is preparing fresh armaments, and 22 transports will be on the way to South Africa during the present month. According to the program 25,000 additional troops and 72 guns will be added to the force. The British have ordered Vickers Sons & Maxim, limited, to manufacture as many 4.7 inch guns and 6-inch quick firs as can be turned out until otherwise notified.

The Boer agents, according to the Cairo correspondent of The Daily Mail, are evading British vigilance respecting the importation of ammunition. The correspondent says:

"A large quantity of quick firing ammunition, which is conveyed by train along the coast or trans-shipped to vessels bound for Portuguese ports in East Africa. French steamers touching at Ras Jibelli before reaching Aden continue to evade search by trans-shipping at Madagascar. The steamers apparently not connected with European lines. In this way they escape suspicion."

The Times publishes the following, dated Jan. 6, from Modder River:

"News from Belmont shows that the Queensland and Canadian volunteers have been so energetic in that neighborhood that a large belt of the Free State across the border has been deserted by the Boers."

On Friday came the report of Colonel Baden-Powell's unsuccessful attack at Gammets. It was a bold effort, but the Boer fort was impregnable and the British were driven back with great loss. The British casualties were three officers and 18 men killed, one officer and 22 men wounded and one trooper captured.

FUGITIVE PHILADELPHIANS.
Deputy Coroner Sauter and Other Alleged Election Crooks Forfeit Bail.
Philadelphia, Jan. 9.—Deputy Coroner Samuel P. Sauter, William Cook, Joseph Rodgers, Harry McCabe, Clarence Messer and James Sheehan, charged with stuffing the ballot box in the Thirtieth division of the Seventh ward, are fugitives from justice, as much so as John Silberman, John Scullen and John Hanna, who were indicted with them, but who have not yet been taken into custody for the crime charged against them. When the grand jury returned their indictment, the defendants were armed with bench warrants are now hunting for them. Their bail has been forfeited, and they stand now in contempt of court for failing to respond to the summons to appear in court before Judge Breg and plead to the 16 indictments found against them last week.

Shortly after the issue of the bench warrants Coroner Sauter received, through a messenger, a note from Sauter in which he resigned his office as deputy coroner. The resignation was promptly accepted.

NOTED ELECTRICIAN DROWNED.
He and His Wife Fell Through the Ice While Skating.
Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 9.—S. Dana Greene, general sales manager of the Greene Electric company, and his wife were drowned yesterday while skating on the Mohawk river. The body of Mrs. Greene was recovered before she died, and that of her husband was found three hours later.

One of the sons of the best known electricians in the country, he entered the United States Naval academy in June, 1875, and was graduated No. 1 in his class in June, 1877. He was commissioned ensign on July 1, 1877, and he returned from the navy on Feb. 19, 1888. He was a grandson of General George S. Greene.

May Move Democratic Headquarters.
Chicago, Jan. 9.—The renewal of the Harrison-Alford feud in the local Democracy, indicated by the mayor's refusal to attend the luncheon given Sunday at the city hall by B. Cook, of the ways and means committee, is likely to result in the party managers moving the Democratic national headquarters away from Chicago. The reason for Mayor Harrison's refusal to be present at the luncheon was the fact that the national committee are exceedingly anxious over the frequent recurrence of the local wrangle and are considering the advisability of establishing the party test in a more harmonious neighborhood.

Voted Against Seating Query.
Washington, Jan. 8.—The senate committee on education and labor decided yesterday, by a vote of four to three, to make an adverse report upon the resolution to seat Senator Quay. SAVED FROM DEEP.

Heroic Rescue of the Crew of a Sinking German Steamer.

STORY OF A RESCUED SEAMAN.

How the Sailors Were Forced to Throw Overboard the Captain's
Wife, Children and Nurse—Little One Thought It Fun.

New York, Jan. 9.—The British steamer Georgian, which arrived yesterday from London, rescued at sea on Jan. 6 Captain Stango and crew of 30 men of the German steamer Ella, also the captain's wife, two children and a nurse. The Ella foundered at sea the same date while on the voyage from Perth Amboy for Halifax with 1,600 tons of coal. The Ella was a steel vessel of 2,117 tons gross and 1,340 tons net.

"We knew when up hope," said one of the rescued, "but the Georgian's chief officer would have none of that. He brought his little boat up as near the Ella's quarter as he dared and shouted to us to throw a rope. The lads obeyed, but the boat's crew rowing back at the while to keep their cockpit shell away from what we thought was their doom."

"The rope connecting us with the lifeboat's crew looked like a thread in a tempest, but the boat's crew rowing back at the while to keep their cockpit shell away from what we thought was their doom."

"But the nurse (captain's wife) had no more of it, and told us to try it first. So the boys jumped the rope in a liffy, and the chief officer at his end of the line hauled him into the lifeboat. The struggles of the cook set us laughing, though the watch reported a severe storm. Death was rubbing its name on the water."

"Little Eddie, the captain's son, crowded and coaxed and shook his small red fists in blue. He did not know our danger. But he would not jump, and we were forced to throw her in the sea. The children we washed to the backs of two men. John Alexander, second steward, took the girl, 6 years old, and a German sailor, Petersen, took the boy, Little Eddie, 4 years old. They were crying and shouting and we thought more than once that we were gone. But the boat came back for the second load."

"This time we jumped the missus and the nurse girl. The nurse was so hysterical she wouldn't jump, and we were forced to throw her in the sea. The children we washed to the backs of two men. John Alexander, second steward, took the girl, 6 years old, and a German sailor, Petersen, took the boy, Little Eddie, 4 years old. They were crying and shouting and we thought more than once that we were gone. But the boat came back for the second load."

"The lifeboat was thrown up under the ship's counter, and some of the men were hurt, but she got away safely, made her second trip all right, and came back for the rest of us. It was a hard job handling the captain. He was heavy and sick and soon the chief officer patted 'em on their backs and said they were the right sort."
